Board Votes To Continue Bell Rivalry

School board members celebrated their first meeting in their new offices in the Ben Milam school by having a pre-meeting talk-fest and steaming cups of hot coffee served by Mrs. Jackie Clement, W. T. Hanes secretary.

First on the agenda for discussion was the matter of the Victory Bell. Dr. Clifford Swift, president of the board, presented the matter, pointing out that there has been some misunderstanding on how the bell was to be presented to the winner prior to its being stolen and as a consequence there had been too much talk on the subject.

He stated that in his conversation with the football players and the general public it was his conclusion that they wanted the bell, and he thought their wishes should be granted. He added that Goehler, who represented the Rockdale, Sandow and Southern Railroad in the presentation of the bell was keenly enthousiastic on its being used as a symbol of keen, friendly rivalry between the two schools and was willing to go on and have the bell properly engraved if it was to be accepted.

Swift reminded that the school authorities and officials originally deemed the gesture fine and sensible and a little matter of horseplay, so common to Universities and colleges, should not affect their thinking.

He proposed that the board dispose of the matter one way or the other and get on to things which were of more vital interest to the school.

Wallace said, "I think we ought to accept it", with the board agreeing that the bell should be accepted and put into the schools trophy case.

Hanes gruffly pointed out that the school doesn't have a trophy case big enough to hold it. Dr. Swift cajoleingly asked if maybe they couldn't find a place to put it and Hanes tersely stated that they would put it wherever the board said to put it.

Having that matter settled Dr. Swift stated that John Henderson had been contacted and he accepted the chairmanship of a committee to plan appropriate ceremonies for the opening of the cornerstone at the old school. He will be assisted by the Chamber of Commerce and Oxsheer Smith.

The principles, S. M. Layfield and Wiley Loughmiller were introduced at the meeting and were complimented on the fine carnival they had been responsible for.

When asked if they had any problems both men answered that there were none as far as they knew. Layfield said that it had been his intent to present some phase of the curriculum to the board for their information and suggestions at the board meetings, if the board approved. Dr. Swift laughingly attested that he had only one complaint about the school and that was one particular text-book. He jokingly said that he had just finished working a problem for one of his youngsters and had arrived at what he knew was the right answer, but the answer in the back of the book was different and therefore must be wrong

All board members agreed that Layfields idea was a good one and it was decided that in the future the principles will make a short outline of some of the curricula, at their discretion, at the board meeting.

A letter of appreication from the Ben Milam teachers was read, telling the board how much they appreciated working in the new building and particularly pointing out that their material to work

Ten Year Old Don Warren Noted For His Sunny Disposition, Happy Smile

Little Donald Ray Warren, better known as "Don", is noted for his sunny disposition and contagious smile even though he is afflicted with chronic Pylonephritis.

His attending physician in Cameron stated that his condition is recurrent and an accurate prognosis cannot be made.

Don, a happy little 10 year old, was able to attend school for a few weeks this year but since then has spent most of his time at home or in John Sealy Hospital at Galveston.

His main occupation and hobby is picking out currect favorites on his little guitar which his mother, Mrs. L. T. Warren, said he is so crazy about he has it with him constantly.

Mrs. Warren, radiant with hope for the future, said Don is looking better than he ever has and they are expecting him to be their football star when he grows up, since that is his favorite game.

Don is enthusiastic about school, proclaiming Miss Dusek, his teacher to be the "best ever" and his favorite subjects as spelling and reading.

Since he has to stay at home so much Don has become very proficient at all games and beats most of his company, including the grown-ups, at checkers.

Doctors stated that Don is taking his handi cap remarkably well and is a very good patient, always ready to cooperate and even takes his medicine with a smile.

Favorite foods? Sure Don has favorites, but not what most people would expect, instead of ice cream or candy his favorites turned out to be he-man fried potatoes and hamburgers.

The Warrens plan to put up their Christmas tree soon with their son doing the biggest part of the decorating as in the past. Christmas morning Don is expecting Santa to have left him an electric train and anything else of Santa's choosing.

The Warren's, who live on East 25 street, have four other children, Hazel Mae who is 21, Arnold who is 19, Shirley 16 years old and Joy who is now 14 years of age.

At the age of 10 Don is a full-fledged hero, leaving his guests with a happy feeling that is derived from his ever-ready, very contagious smile.

Don's kidneys, which are primarily affected, act through a tube in his side and he was particularly disappointed when his new plastic jar, instead of the glass one he has been using, didn't arrive last week.

There are two main loves in Don's life, company and a TV set. Last week he was hoping that Santa Claus would bring him the much longed for TV Set but Saturday C. W. Hudson, of Hudson's Television Service surprised him by putting in a set at the Warren home for Dons use.

Mr. Hudson, the donor, said that his only wish was to make Don's life as happy as a ten year olds should be.

J. Walter Hammond Of Farm Bureau Is Named "Man of the Year" In Agriculture

J. Walter Hammond, Texas farm bureau president, has been named "1954 Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" by the Progressive Farmer, a southwide farm magazine.

The announcement was made today by Eugene Butler, president and editor of the magazine.

The recognition is given Hammond for conspicuous and distinguished farm organization leadership. Says Editor Butler: J. Walter Hammond is, probably more than any other man, the voice of the Texas farmer and rancher. And during the past fifteen years as Texas Farm Bureau President, he has used that voice very effectively for the good of Texas Agriculture."

It is largely through Hammond's long, hard work that the Texas Farm Bureau now numbers almost 60,000 members in 200 counties. And it is a powerful force in Texas agriculture and farm legislation.

The organization had a membership of about 5,000 when Hammond became president in 1939. A farmer himself, Hammond was convinced that farmers had to be organized to be heard. He was determined the membership should grow until they could make their influence felt both in the state and nation.

In early days, Hammond had to beat his way in to see politicians to try to give them the farmer's views. Today, they come to see how the Farm Bureau feels about problems.

Hammond and fellow Farm Bureau directors fought for the Texas farm to market road program. As a result Texas now has as fine a rural road system as any in the nation.

In 1949, Hammond used his influence nationally to settle the storage problem for a big wheat crop. By getting CCC loans available for wheat temporarily stored on the ground, permanent storage soon opened up just as Hammond had predicted.

Texas wheat farmers benefited about $40 million dollars. He has helped solve similar problems dealing with cotton, cattle. and grain

Sunlight Powered Telephones May Flash Messages; Solar Battery

Sunbeam - powered telephones may someday flash messages about crops, market prices and the weather between farm homes in this area, predicts Manager C. L. Carson of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Information about a new invention of Bell Telephone scientists that may make sunlight energy usable to carry telephone messages and perform other tasks has just been received here by the manager.

The new device, invented and presently being developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories, is called a solar battery. It can convert energy from light into electrical energy, which already has been used in experiments to power telephones, operate small electric motors and lights, and operate switches to turn various devices on or off.

Since its invention several months ago, scientists have improved the efficiency of the battery by one-third until it now has about eight per cent efficiency, Mr. Carson reported. This compares with 10 per cent efficiency of standard diesel engines.

The battery in its present form is a simple-looking gadget made of razor-thin strips of silicon, principal ingredient of common sand, which are glued to a clear plastic ing on these silicon strips is converted into electrical energy, which is carried away on tiny wires connected to the silicon wafers.

At the moment, Bell scientists do not see the solar battery as a competitor for commerical power -- its important use would be in places where commercial power was not readily available, and in communications where only a small amount of power is needed.

The battery in its present stage requires large amounts of space--one large enough to furnish power for an industrial plant might cover several acres; one large enough to furnish power for a city the size of Dallas would require about a square mile of surface.

A number of future possibilities have been suggested for the new battery. If houses had silicon roofs, for instance, a battery this size might furnish current to run the refrigerator, lights and other electrical appliances. Authorities say there is already a demand for small solar power machines, up to five horsepower, for irrigation, heating and cooling of dwellings, charging batteries and other farm and ranch uses.

Immediate practical uses, however, would be in the communications business, such as powering rural telephones, mobile radio-telephone systems, or in army walkie-talkies.

Milam Wildcat Drilling To Begin Now

Texas Gulf Sulphur Co. of Houston has filed notice of intention to drill a 9,000-foot wildcat in Milam County, on its fee land, and has pits complete and is moving in material for the wildcat which has been rumored here since last spring.

The test will be south of the recently completed extension wells in the Minerva-Rockdale Field, and will be three and a half miles west of Milano, on the former A. Baker Tract.

Texas Gulf has owned the property for many years, having acquired it for coal prospects, but within the last few months has added other acreage in the area.

It is rumored that several other companies are drilling in that area, with new wells to be completed in the next few weeks' but all of the reports are unconfirmed.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Guess It's Called a Safety "Drive"

Whitey Fisher, from the State Motor Vehicle Department, dropped by to discuss some of our local traffic problems.

"Up at Center Junction," Whitey says, "they've got a new sign that really slows down the traffic going through town."

"The sign says, 'At 25 miles an hour, you can drive through Center Junction in 2½ minutes!' It slows people down too—some just take it easy to check on that 2½ minutes, I guess. Hasn't even been a dented fender since that sign went up."

From where I sit, it wasn't what the sign said, but the way it was said. People are usually pretty understanding if they understand what you mean. It's the same way with differences of opinion. Perhaps your neighbor prefers a temperate glass of beer, and you would choose buttermilk. What I'd like to see is for all of us to "slow down," talk it out, and be respectful of our neighbor's rights.

Milady Biskup Becomes Bride Of Wilfred Patrick Vavra In Double Ring Ceremony

In a impressive double ring ceremony in St. Monica's Catholic Church November 20 Miss Milady Cecilia Biskup became the bride of Wilfred Patrick Vavra with Reverend George Duda conducting the wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Biskup of Cameron and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Vavra of Caldwell.

The altar was decorated with arrangements of yellow mums in baskets and Mrs. Frank Hanel, organist, played several selections including the wedding marches.

Members of the St. Monica choir composed of Mrs. Frances Mikula, Miss Ann Michalka, Miss Agnes Sheguit, Mrs. Henry Schattle, Mrs Rita Greenwood and Mrs. Leo Laake sang several appropriate numbers.

The brides dress, featuring a snug fitting satin bodice covered with lace, was a ballerina length white satin with overskirts of net and tulle. Her finger tip veil of illusion deperded from a satin juliet cap.

She carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid with stephonitis and streamers.

Attendants of the bride, Miss Jo-Ann Coody of Bryan, Texas, maid of honor, and bridesmaids Jo Ann Biskup, sister of the bride and Rose Marie Janek, of Cameron were identically gowned in deepening shades of blue. Their dresses of ballerina length were of satin with overskirts of net and tulle. Each wore a yellow mum in her hair and carried bouquets of matching mums.

Bobby Biskup, brother of the bride, now enrolled at Allen Academy in Bryan, acted as best man, with Edward Biskup, brother of the bride stationed at Ft. Hood and Elmo Hurry, brother in law of the bride of Waller, Texas, acting as groomsmen.

Mother of the bride chose a navy blue dress with navy accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Vavra, mother of the groom wore a brown dress with brown accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Immediately following the wedding the reception was held in Simon George Memorial Hall.

Mrs. Will Burrough cut the cake and Mrs. Elmo Hurry poured. Others assisting the guests were Mrs. Annie Hurry and Mrs. Jim Biskup.

As a going away ensemble the bride chose a gray suit with pink accessories. After a four day wedding trip to Louisiana the couple is at home in LaGrange, Texas.

Fishing For White Bass Is Wintertime Sport

The Chief Aquatic Biologist for the Game and Fish Commission said the Texan receiving fishing tackle for Christmas should not feel neglected.

"Right now and continuing on through the so-called off season lakes with white bass will do okay He said this particularly applies to Texoma on the Texas-Oklahoma border and to the Highland Lakes chain northwest of Austin.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist said more than one creel census, based on cold statistical observation, show that proportionally some lakes yield more fish during the winter than during the summer.

"There's certainly nothing wrong with getting fishing tackle for Christmas," he said "We have a year-around season by state law that affects all but comparatively few fresh water areas governed by special statutes. And much of the state has a year-around climate for fishing. Of course, a fellow will want to pick his days and avoid the chilly blasts."

The Director of Coastal Fisheries (C. W. Reid of Rockport) said natives and visitors from inland areas find good fishing in the Gulf durng many wintertime periods. He emphasized that oftentimes, when northers cause trout and red fish to head for the harbor basins, good strings are caught from the piers and docks.

which was way above par and further went on record, as a body, to the effect that they did not wish to have any playground equipment believing that the children derived more benefits from supervised group games.

Next there was a letter from the parents and patrons of the O. J. Thomas school requesting adequate parking facilities at the school. A committee was appointed to aee that parking space is obtained.

Bids from three Insurance agencies were read with the George Childress company awarded the contract.

Several other phases of insurance at the school was discussed and Jimmy Wiggs, representative of the Childress Company was especially commended by the members of the board on saving them some insurance monies on the old school.

By letter Reverend John Solomon, president of the Girl Scouts, asked if the school could furnish a meeting place for second and third grade girls from the rural section so that they might attend scout meetings before their bus schedule.

School officials were authorized to talk with Rev. Solomon and decide on a meeting place, and further decide on the policy for future use of the Ben Milam facilities as far as the general public is concerened.

Following talk of the dedication ceremonies, when over 1,000 were served according to Hanes, the board opened bids on the schools no longer in use of the outlying sections.

Vito Riola, with the highest bid, was sold the Watts Switch school and grounds; Archie McLaren, with the highest bid, was sold the String Prairie Building; Dr. Denson bought the Curry building but all bids on the grounds were rejected. The Hoyte school and grounds bids were all rejected.

It was decided that the North Elm and Belmina schools will be sold by the highest bid.

After several other comparitively unimportant matters were discussed the board adjourned.
